BASEBALL: As Explained to a Foreign Visitor

You have two sides – one out in the field and one in.

Each man that's on the side that's in goes out and when he's out he comes in and the man goes in until he's out.

When three men are out, the side that's out comes in and the side that's been in goes out and tries to get those coming in out.

Sometimes you get men still in and not out.

When both sides have been in and out nine times, including the not outs, that's the end of the game.

In case you were wondering, Bobby Valentine's athletic history is as rich and flavorful as the food in his restaurants. Bobby is a native of Stamford, Connecticut where he complimented his high school baseball achievements by becoming the only three-time all state football player in Connecticut history. He was, in fact, voted by Sports Illustrated as one of the best athletes of the 20th century from Connecticut. After being selected in the first round by the L.A. Dodgers, Bobby went on to have successful stints with the Angels, Padres, Mets, and Mariners. When he retired as a player, Bobby was the third base coach for the New York Mets before being named the Manager of the Texas Rangers in 1985. As the Rangers' manager he was named UPI American League Manager of the Year in 1986. In 1994 Bobby became the first American to accept a management position in the Pacific League of Japan for the Chiba Lotte Marines. In 1996 Bobby was hired as the manager of the New York Mets, where he led the team to the post season in consecutive years for the first time in team history and to the World Series in 2000. Bobby went back to manage the Chiba Lotte Marines in 2004 and the team won the Japan World Series and the Asian Series in 2005. Bobby has been in the restaurant business for 25 years. So sit back and enjoy the best in food, sports and spirits. Who knows Bobby just might come by and buy you a drink.
